WEDNESDAY'S LECTURE THE BEST OF CHAUTAUQUA SO FAR

Vigorous Address by Pennsylvania Dutchman and Concert by Symphony Quintet Proves Best of Week—Comedies Today.

The lecture Wednesday evening at Chautauqua was by far the best single feature of the week's program so far. Dr. Andrew H. Harlan's discussion of the topic "Making Democracy Safe for the World" was the type of lecture calculated to accomplish something really worth while on the Chautauqua platform. Although he spoke over his time, the large audience could have heard him much longer.

The concert by the Cleveland Symphony Quintet both in the afternoon and evening pleased the music lovers of the community. It was really high class music rendered by real musicians.

Thursday is "Play Day" at the Chautauqua and this year the famous Ruth Whitworth Players will have the boards and present two comedies. In the afternoon the title of the play will be "Fixing Father" and at night the show will be "Matrimony." As a usual thing these play-days at Chautauqua are the biggest days of the entire week. Single admissions always take a great jump on these days as visitors come from all of the adjoining counties for this big feature.

JOHN BAILEY MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED HERE IN 1919

Man Who Says He Took Part in the Slaying of Fleming County Man, Dies at His Home in the Hills—Local Officers Slumped.

Chief of Police James Mackey for the past several days has been investigating a report that an "Eph" Ridgon, of Fleming county had confessed to the murder of John Bailey, Park Lake farmer who delivered his tobacco here in December, 1919, and mysteriously disappeared. This investigation carried Chief Mackey to the hills of Fleming county where a dying man said to be insane made a statement. This statement however is worth little without corroborating and this the officers have failed to obtain.

This week's Flemingburg Times-Democrat tells the story as follows:

About a year and a half ago a man named John Bailey, in company with three others who we are told were Ephraim Ridgon, Bruce McKeon and Early Crawford, or "Hock," as he was called, left from Mosee precinct or the edge of Lewis county, went to Mayville with tobacco, and the rest of the party came back but Bailey has never been seen since so far as his friends know. His team of mules stood in the Home warehouse stable for three days before they were noticed. When the three men came home they were very much under the influence of M-M-J, or mountain moonshine, we are unable to say which. The disappearance of Bailey continued to be a mystery.

Some time after this Ridgon was taken ill with some mysterious malady, which the local physicians could not get a line on. His friends brought him to Flemingsburg and solicited aid to take him to a Lexington hospital, and they could do nothing for him, telling him they could find nothing wrong with him. He later went to Cincinnati, where some sort of an operation was performed, but still he continued to grow worse. Some time since he began to talk wildly of the fate of John Bailey, and before his death on Saturday last he is said to have made a full confession of the murder of Bailey by himself, Bruce McKeon and Crawford. He further said that they put his body in a burley sack, weighted it with rock and pushed it off the limestone bridge into the backwater from the Ohio River. His story is that one of the party stabbed Bulley several times while another of the party shot him twice.

It is said that Bruce McKeon is now crazy at his home in the vicinity of Park Lake, while the whereabouts of Crawford are said to be unknown. One of Bailey's sons recently shot an uncle in Lewis county and we think he is now in jail at Vanceburg. Another son of Bailey also shot a girl in Mosee a few months ago, but he claimed it was accidental, and nothing was done about it.

At the time of this writing we do not know what steps, if any, the Mason county authorities have taken in the matter.

BADLY BURNED.

Miss Goldie Pangburn was badly injured about the face and arms and the front of her hand and her eyebrows and lashes burned off when an oil stove refused to go out and she attempted to blow it out last Tuesday night. She had finished her work and had turned off the stoves, one burner of which did not work right.

She ran out and called for help and was assisted by Miss Lottie Womack who called a doctor. Her burns were dressed and she is doing as well as could be expected.—Ripley Bee.

LAWYERS TO FIGHT NEW COURT MOVE

Meeting Will Be Held at Lexington Thursday Night In Protest Against Proposed Langley Bill.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 10.—Lawyers from more than a dozen Central and Eastern Kentucky towns have expressed their intention of attending a meeting at the Phoenix hotel here Thursday night to protest against the proposed bill of Congressman John W. Langley, of the Tenth district, for the creation of a third federal court district in Kentucky, the local committee in charge of plans for the meeting announced today.

It is planned to appoint committees to work against the bill among congressmen when it is introduced and to present reasons to members of Congress and federal officials as to why the third court is considered unnecessary.

At a meeting this morning of the local committee, which is composed of members of the Fayette County Bar Association, final arrangements were made for the meeting Thursday night. At least 75 of the leading attorneys in the sections to be effected by the proposed new district are expected to attend the meeting, it was said. Lawyers from Danville, Shelbyville, Lancaster, Jackson, Irvine, Bentonville, Versailles, Purlis, Somerset, Hazard, Mt. Sterling, Owenton and Ashland have written that they will attend the meeting.

The meeting will begin at 7 o'clock with a dinner in the Phoenix hotel ball room and speakers will present the objections to the establishment of an additional federal court.

While all those backing the movement here are members of the Fayette County Bar Association, that organization has taken no official action on the proposition.

FOUR TAKEN IN ALLEGED MURDER CONSPIRACY

Biggs Family Is Indicted On Testimony of Wife of Convicted Man.

Grayson, Ky., Aug. 9.—Robert Biggs, Jack Biggs, Maude Biggs and Cum Biggs were indicted by a special grand jury in the Carter Circuit Court here today on a charge of conspiring with D. Gladonia to murder Charles Duvall of Olive Hill. Duvall was acquitted of the killing of Dr. Harvey Biggs at the February term of court.

Gladonia was convicted at this term of court and sentenced to eight years in the State Reformatory, for shooting from ambush at Charles Duvall and others, who last June were repairing telephone wires near the Biggs' place.

It is alleged that the Biggs got Gladonia of Marion, Ohio, and another man, now unknown, to waylay Duvall. Since the conviction of Gladonia, his wife informed the authorities she knew the contract and would tell all. She was before the grand jury.

The Biggs, after they were arrested, were granted a change of venue and the case will be tried in the Lawrence Circuit Court, in Louisa, September 26. Bond of $5,000 was given for each defendant.

RAIL STRIKERS GATHER TO MEET THE PRESIDENT

Great Conference at Washington Between President and Union Representatives May Mean the Ending of the Nation-wide Strike.

Washington, August 10.—To the accompaniment of ominous rumblings of discontent on the part of all railroad labor—engineers and conductors, as well as track walkers and clerks—leaders of the 16 national unions engaged in railway operation began drifting into Washington today for what easily may turn out to be the most important series of conferences in recent railroad history.

Primarily, the conferences are going to determine upon the answer the striking shop crafts will make to President Harding's latest proposal for ending the strike of railroad repairmen. Actually, the conference may develop a general policy on the part of the railway labor unions in what many of their leaders frankly believe to be "a show down fight" with the railroads. It is already accepted as a fact by union leaders that the shop crafts will reject President Harding's proposal that they return to work, leaving to the Railway Labor board the duty of determining whether the strikers are to be restored to their seniority rights.

This will leave the whole situation again in the hands of the President. Whether the President has a definite plan is not known outside of the White House. In the meantime he has arranged to have congress ready to act upon any plan he may place before it.

A GREAT CAMPAIGNER

The report that Exterminator is to be retired is probably correct. Age and heavy imposts have begun to tell upon the veteran horse.

When Exterminator really ends his career, the public will say a very fond farewell to a real horse. Horses like Man o' War and Morvich seem cuddled, done up in cotton, compared with Exterminator. The owners of Exterminator had no desire nor any chance to make him a "super-horse." His two-year-old career was a thing of obscurity. It was not until the Kentucky Derby of 1918 that Exterminator informed the public that he existed and had to be taken into account. He came through the mud and won that classic race. He was second to the specially imported Johnnies in the Latonia Derby of that year. But defeat meant little to Exterminator. It apparently was but an inspiration to greater effort in the next race. The most significant part of it all was that the contemporaries of Exterminator had long disappeared, in a racing sense, when Exterminator was taking stake races from the youngsters that followed on.

The public likes a great campaigner in any sport. This Exterminator was. Horses came and horses went, the wonders of a season or two, but Exterminator was still carrying his owners' colors to victories. Now it is reported that he is to be retired, the winner of $215,000. Perhaps. But it should not be surprising if this horse of stout heart and strong limb would still be seen, flashing past the "get" of his former contemporaries.

AIDING A NEIGHBOR IN TROUBLE.

City Council has placed a flat charge of one hundred dollars on the use of our five fighting equipment to aid in extinguishing a blaze outside of the city limits.

We doubt the wisdom of sending the heavy fire engines over the rough country roads to a fire under certain circumstances but we don't like the idea of putting a flat charge on helping a neighbor in trouble. There's not an individual so hard-hearted but that would aid a neighbor whose home was afire. A city is but a group of individuals and the city should hear the cry of help from a suffering neighbor and aid him in his suffering if possible.

We don't understand how the city arrived at the amount fixed as a charge. No price can be fixed upon neighborliness and friendship, neither can it be valued in dollars and cents.

Again we say, the wisdom of sending our fire fighting equipment on many of these calls is very doubtful, for in most instances the equipment can be of no service when it arrives but to make a charge when the cry for help from a neighbor is heard and answered, is too materialistic.

THE OLDEST DRUMMER.

Unfortunately nobody seemed to know how old the late John Shell of the Kentucky Mountains was. "Wrinkled Meat," an Indian believed to be more than 125 years old, had no family Bible with the date of his birth in it. Some doubt of his extreme antiquity existed when he went to the happy hunting ground of his tribe a few months ago.

George Joels of Rochester, declared "The oldest drummer" is, according to a story he does not contradict, 91 years old, and he is quoted as saying he is going strong and does not contemplate retiring from the road until old age overtakes him.

Mr. Joels "has pursued the active calling of a commercial traveler" seventy years. In his young days he traveled from Rochester to Portland, Me., commercially, in horse-drawn vehicles.

Even if "Uncle John" Shell was not older than Wrinkled Meat, the honors for toughness of physique and duration remain with the Anglo-Saxon race if Mr. Joels of Rochester has for seventy years pitted his digestive powers against the bills of fare at small town hotels between Rochester and Portland and is able to say truthfully at 91 that he is "going strong."

OLD RUGGLES

Ruggles Campmeeting has closed another successful year and on the last Sunday there were thousands gathered on this now nationally famed camp grounds.

Our forefathers who established Ruggles Campgrounds probably did not think they were establishing an institution that would live throughout the years and become not only the annual meeting place of thousands who have scattered throughout the land but an institution for the spreading of the gospel of the Christ Man and a training school for youthful Christians.

Hundreds meet old friends once a year at Ruggles and hundreds are taught the message of love and salvation in the old tabernacle.

Those to whom the old fathers have handed the responsibility of this camp are endeavoring to "carry on" and they are succeeding beyond their own fondest hopes. Ruggles campmeeting is now the most famous in Kentucky.

CHAUTAUQUA—A COMMUNITY TONIC.

Maysville is this week enjoying a Chautauqua and scores of our citizens are flocking to Beechwood Park each day to enjoy the program of music, magic, mirth and oratory.

There are programs that do not appeal to certain classes but make a strong impression on others. Taken as a whole, however, the program has thus far been well balanced. It has not only entertained but it has instructed and edified.

The effect of this year's Chautauqua will be felt in Maysville for months and there is no doubt but that something has been said during the week's meeting that will have a lasting effect upon some individuals.

A Chautauqua is a Community Tonic and every community is better for having had one. Let us continue the Chautauqua in Maysville as a regular annual event.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington. — Mr. Gompers having made a great public display of revoking the charter of a bookkeepers' and accountants' union on the ground that it was too radical, the Republican Publicity Association thinks it is appropriate to look back over the recent record and see some of the incidents which indicate the measure of radicalism of Mr. Gompers himself.

The association says: "In 1911, Mr. William Z. Foster, in a letter published in an organ of the I. W. W., urged that organization to adopt and practice the principles of revolutionary socialism, which means: to put machinery on strike by disabling it; to cut railroad wires; put cement in switches; run locomotives into turn table pits; put emery dust in machinery bearings; etc. When the attention of Mr. Gompers was called to the fact that Foster had been affiliated with the I. W. W., Mr. Gompers admitted that affiliation, but insisted that Foster had reformed. When Mr. Foster was leading and managing the steel strike he had the full backing of Mr. Gompers. Only within the past year did the radicalism of Mr. Foster become so public that Mr. Gompers found it convenient to sever his relations with the I. W. W. leader.

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

Maysville Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Palms and Aches.

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Maysville people. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207, West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling sort of miserable. I stopped to let me have a walk so alone. I was dizzy by spells and suffered from rheumatic pains. I was so bad I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were painful. My kidneys were in bad condition owing to their irregular action. Another of the family had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood & Son's drug store for a couple of boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them willingly."

less of the city of Boston went on strike and left the city at the mercy of the lawless, that strike had the moral support of Mr. Gompers and when Governor Coolidge refused to restore the striking policemen to their positions, and the Democratic candidate for governor promises to order their restoration, the influence of Mr. Gompers was thrown to the support of the Democratic candidate and against Mr. Coolidge.

"In 1918, following the signing of the armistice, Mr. Gompers declared that organized labor will 'resist to the uttermost' any attempt to reduce war time wages or lengthen hours of labor. Just what Mr. Gompers had in mind when he used the phrase 'resist to the uttermost' it would be impossible to assert. But there can be no doubt whatever what interpretation would be put upon it by all that class of people who believe in the use of physical force for the settlement of disputes, who believe in the methods advocated by Mr. Foster, and who perpetrate such outrages as the massacre at Herrin, Illinois. The American farmer was compelled to take a reduction from war time prices, American business took their losses incident to the passing of war-time conditions, yet Mr. Gompers with a measure of radicalism which it would be difficult to surpass urged that organized labor 'resist to the uttermost' any attempt to reduce wages.

"When the United States Senate passed a bill providing for the adjudication of wage disputes on railroads and then incorporated the bill in a provision against conspiracies to interrupt interstate commerce, but expressly reserved to every individual his right to quit. Mr. Gompers declared that if that measure became a law, organized labor would ignore and defy it. Asserting the right of labor union men to quit, he has never conceded the right of other men to work.

"If it was proper for Mr. Gompers to recall the charter of the bookkeepers' union on account of radicalism, what action should be taken in order to curtail the power of Mr. Gompers himself?"

OVER FIVE THOUSAND NEGRO FARMERS IN SOUTH, SAYS CENSUS

Interesting data on Southern Farmers Announced by Census Bureau—Over Five Thousand Colored Farmers in South.

Washington, D. C., August 14.—The Department of Commerce announces that, according to the Fourteenth Decennial Census, the total farm population of the South on January 1, 1920, was 16,827,834, comprising 11,730,848 white persons, 5,044,489 Negroes, and 52,497 persons of other races. The great majority of these persons, of course, were enumerated within rural territory, but the total included 44,701 who were living on farms located within the limits of cities or other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more, that is to say, in urban territory, according to the census definition. It may be noted in this connection that the census definition of a farm extends somewhat beyond the ordinary meaning of the term in that it includes any fruit or market garden, poultry yard, dairy or apiary which either yielded $250 worth of products in 1919 or required for its operation the continuous services of at least one person during that year. The farm population comprises both farm operators and farm laborers and their families, including farm laborers and their families not actually living on farms but not living in incorporated places.

The census of 1920 was the first at which the population living on farms was tabulated separately from the rural population as a whole, and therefore no comparative figures for earlier census can be given.

The white farm population of the South in 1920 constituted 48.6 per cent of the total white population of that section, 24,132,214; and the Negro farm population formed 56.6 per cent of the total southern Negro population, 8,912,231.

The Negro farm population exceeded the white farm population in two states, South Carolina and Mississippi. In the former state the Negro farm population numbered 640,357, as against a white farm population of only 434,131; and in the latter the corresponding numbers were 722,739 and 547,087, respectively. The largest Negro farm population, however, is shown for Georgia, 757,205.

In West Virginia, in which state the entire Negro population constituted nearly 6 per cent of the total, the Negro farm population, 4,049, represented a very much smaller proportion of the total farm population, less than 1 per cent. This is by far the smallest proportion of Negro farm population shown for any southern state.

MOVIELAND NOTES.

Broadway's reigning Oriental fox trot, “The Isle of Zora” —inspired by the Pathé serial special feature of the same title—the favorite dance number on the Hotel Astor roof and at many cabarets. Its vogue is following the showing of the picture in all the large cities of the United States.

Mildren Davis, who plays opposite Harold Lloyd in the famous Lloyd comedies, descends from old Quaker families on both sides, and, owing to the fact, is the proud possessor of quantities of the rarest linen and other household treasures. A great aunt, who traveled extensively in Europe left her a rose point lace shawl valued at $2,000, which, says Miss Davis, she will use for a wedding veil—if she ever gets married.

Harold Lloyd and his staff can now be comfortable when they are viewing rushes of Lloyd productions, for Grace Martin and assistants of the wardrobe department are making cushions for the wicked chairs which have been added to the orchestra circle in the projection room of the Hal E. Roach Studios. The projection room has been treated to much decoration, with hand-painted work on the walls and ceiling, new lighting fixtures and new chairs, while rugs have been ordered.

Harley Walker, who, in addition to writing titles for the Lloyd comedies, performs the same service for every comedy produced at the Roach studio, spent an afternoon recently with Dr. Al Williams, in the Chapman Building, Los Angeles. Not that there is anything physically wrong with “Beanie” but, inasmuch as Lloyd plays a young doctor in his newest work, Walker wanted to give the titles the proper atmosphere. He promises a few sensations in the way of titles, when “Doctor’s Orders” reaches the market, which will not be until late in the year.

Paul Parrott is receiving much praise for his work in Hal Roach comedies. J. A. Howe has just finished a timely comedy in which Parrott becomes involved with camels, radio, and Arabs. Jim Davis has written the story for the new Parrott picture, in addition to directing it, in which the characters will be of the “moonshiner” type, although Davis guarantees there will not be a still in the entire thousand feet.

“I live for my mother and my work” says Marie Mosquini. The little comedienne recently purchased a charming Colonial home in Los Angeles and is never so happy as when she is out in the kitchen cooking a delectable meal or making some piece of hand work, or fussing with the chickens in the back yard. “I am not a cafe girl. I’m just one of those old fashioned girls that loves home,” she often says.

Ruth Renek, who is playing leads with the William Fox organization at Hollywood, has left for New York for a brief vacation. Miss Renek is playing an important role in “A Foot There Was,” to be her leading man.

Shirley Mason is to make a picture for Fox called “The Unexpected Wife.” Wallace McDonald, who plays an important role in “A Foot There Was,” is to be her leading man.

William Russell has started work on “Mixed Faces,” from the novel by Roy Norton. Dave Keefe is directing and Renee Adoree is the leading woman. Harvey Clarke and Elizabeth Garrison will play character roles.

Shirley Mason, always at home in the water, has turned expert. In a recent water carnival at Los Angeles the Fox star won the hundred-yard swim and the fancy diving contest.

Renee Adoree, who in private life is the wife of Tom Moore, is a busy person. Having made a hit in “Monte-Cristo,” she will appear in four William Fox pictures later fall.

Irene Rich, who plays the wife in “A Foot There Was,” has been selected to play opposite Dustin Farnum in his new Fox picture. Bernard Durning is directing. The title has not been selected.

Tom Mix has a medal presented to him by the Tennessee Legislature for his work in cleaning up moonshiners.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

The official summary of weather and crop conditions in Kentucky for the week ending Tuesday, August 8, 1922, follows:

Temperatures were moderate and favorable for growth and farm work. Good showers in the eastern counties were beneficial locally, but rainfall was light and of little consequence in other districts. In the extreme western counties there has been no rain for two weeks, and crops are needing rain badly, especially on the hilly upland as far east as Daviess county. The state exhibits marked contrasts in crop conditions. Corn and early tobacco are good to excellent in the central and southern counties, where they will mature without further rain; but both crops are deteriorating because of drought in much of the northeastern district, and corn is "firing" in the western dry area. In the northern blue grass section early tobacco is so badly "fired" that it is being cut somewhat prematurely in order to save it. Further rain is needed to cause complete spreading in most of the state. Late tobacco is doing well in the area favored by rains, but in the dry districts, especially the northern burley section, it is poor and uneven. The dry weather was favorable for starting the curling process, also for preventing the spreading of rust. Late potatoes are growing well in the central and southern counties, but need rain in other sections. Conditions were favorable for thrashing, which was finished during the week; also for cutting and curing the third crop of alfalfa, now in progress. Pastures and gardens continue good in the more favored sections, but are practically dried up in the hilly parts of the dry districts. Stock water is reported short in the northern blue grass region. Cow pens are generally good, but would be benefited by rain.

CARDS WITH CHANGED LINEUP PLAY AT PARIS TODAY.

HERE'S ONE WHO BEATS CARNIVAL.

The Cardinals with two new players, Burnham on third and Altman in the outfield, in their lineup clash with the Mammoths Thursday at Paris. Class will probably be shifted to the fourth.

Thursday's game with Paris, Saturday's with Lexington and Sunday's game with Cynthiana are of vast importance to the Cards as all three clubs are close contenders for first place with a few games separating Cynthiana in first place and Maysville in fourth.

Thursday's hurlers will probably be Miner for the Cards against Parsons for the Mammoths.

Kohlbecker is purchased from Colton States League Club.

A Cincinnati boy, Frank Kohlbecker, who played semi-pro baseball with the Norwood club when that outfit was considered one of the best teams in the country, has been sold to the White Sox and will join the Chicago club at the close of the Cotton States' league schedule. "Kohly" is manager and backstop for the Meridian club. Kohlbecker, a right-hand hitter and thrower, started his baseball career with an amateur team called the Betties, and captained and did the catching for the Woodward High School team. He played semi-pro ball here for two years and then went to Little Rock in the Southern Association, where he played for two seasons. Towards the close of 1921 he became the manager of the Meridian club and has played there ever since. "Kohly" is 26 years of age, weighs 178 pounds and is considered one of the best hitters and catchers in the Cotton States' league.

Kohlbecker some ten years ago played quite a few games with the Maysville team in the Old Blue Grass league days.

ANOTHER TONEY FOUND.

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 9—Years ago when Captain "Bill" Neale, now business manager of the Louisville Colonels headed the old Blue Grass League, Winchester Carroll a tall, awkward pitcher from the hills of Tennessee. His name was Fred Toney. Now Winchester has another Fred Toney. At least Manager Howard Caminitz thinks so. Henry Powell is built like Toney, 6 feet and 4 inches tall, weighing over 200 pounds. His speed equals Toney's and he has an underhand curve which the fans call strange and bewildering.

THE AUGUSTA CHRONICLE SAYS:

"Dude" Jeit was an interested spectator at one of the games—a small ball being placed in slot, finally landing on the lucky number, or rather, generally, unlucky number. One of the "cappers" gave "Dude" 25 cents twice to start the ball, and strange to relate "Dude" guided the ball right both times. To further encourage "Dude" and others who might be willing to take a chance, the capper gave "Dude" 25 cents and told him to try his luck. "Dude," wise in this day and generation, slipped the two-bit piece in his pocket, and as far as we have been able to learn he was the only man to beat a game at the carnival.
